Covid-19 Update

How lucky we are to have more restrictions lifted. Well done everyone for complying and making the community a safer place.

Let's celebrate this great weather, the sunshine and our freedom to go out and have some fun. And what better way to begin than with a new look.

I had a chat with some of my talented colleagues to get the gist of what is going on in the world of hair fashion.

Here are a few celebrity indications.

Bang on!

If the thought of bangs gives you flashbacks to bad DIY haircuts of your youth, it might be time to reconsider them. Long, choppy, side-swept bangs that fall below your brow can take years off your appearance. They call attention to your pretty peepers, and away from potential problem areas such as your forehead and neckline. This ultra-flattering, casual chic hairstyle is so popular in France, it's known in beauty circles as the "French Fringe."

Keep It Shaggy

The classic shag is a low-maintenance, messy chic hairstyle that can shave years off your look. Unlike blunt cuts, this hairstyle has wispy ends that soften facial features and smooth out fine lines and wrinkles. The use of a razor to chop in chunky, textured layers, injecting effortless volume to fine or thin hair.

Hair that flips up at the ends is having a moment once more. Celebrities of all ages are currently flipping out over the retro flip hairdo, which has its roots in the 1960s — think Mary Tyler Moore and Betty Draper of Mad Men. Long, straight hair might be the end goal of flat iron owners around the world, but it can be a hard look to pull off, no matter what age you are. Blunt-cut tresses tend to drag down your entire face, which — let's face it — is the opposite of what you need right now. Chopping in a few long, softly angled layers below your chin will give your whole look an instant lift.
